1. DETAILS OF THE OFFER

1.1 The Offer

The Company is making a non-renounceable pro rata offer of New Shares at an issue price of $0.90 each on the basis of one (1) New Share for every nine (9) Shares held on the Record Date (Offer).

The Company intends to apply the funds raised from the Offer towards:

- (a) further exploration and development of the Company's 53.3% interest in the Biglyi Uranium Project (Northern Territory);
- (b) advancing the Company's 100% owned projects in both the Northern Territory and Western Australia; and
- (c) working capital.

As at the date of this Offer Document, the Company has on issue 120,865,490 Shares and 450,000 unlisted options. The Company expects that up to approximately 13,429,499 New Shares will be issued under the Offer.

Where the determination of the Entitlement of any Eligible Shareholder results in a fraction of a New Share, such fraction will be rounded up to the nearest whole New Share.

1.2 Rationale for the Offer

As was announced to ASX on 8 September 2009, the Company entered into an implementation deed with CGNPC Uranium Resources Co Ltd (URC) under which China Uranium Development Company Limited (CUD) would offer to acquire up to 70% of the Shares in the Company by means of a proportional takeover bid (Implementation Deed). It was further agreed at that time (as announced on 8 September 2009 and as part of the Implementation Deed), that CUD would underwrite an entitlement issue. The terms of the Entitlement Issue were specifically agreed in the Implementation Deed, including the issue price of $0.90. The terms of the Underwriting were also agreed at that time. CUD and the Company have subsequently entered into an underwriting agreement to fully document the terms of the underwriting of the Entitlement Issue.

CUD's proportional takeover concluded on 18 December 2009, the result of which is that CUD currently has a relevant interest of 66% of the Company's issued voting shares. Energy Metals is now accordingly proceeding with the Entitlement Issue as was contemplated under the Implementation Deed.

The Company acknowledges that since the week that the CUD takeover concluded, the Company's share price has fallen below the Entitlement Issue price, which the Company considers to be understandable given the large shareholding that CUD has acquired pursuant to the proportional takeover and the recent general downturn in equity markets. The last closing price of Shares on ASX prior to the announcement of the Offer on 5 February 2010 was $0.70. The Company reiterates however that it is proceeding with the Entitlement Issue on the basis of the terms set out in the Implementation Deed in September, and in light of CUD's takeover offer price of $1.02 per Share.

 These dates are indicative only.

1.4 Entitlements and acceptance

The Entitlement of Eligible Shareholders to participate in the Offer will be determined on the Record Date. Your Entitlement is shown on the Entitlement and Acceptance form accompanying this Offer Document.

Acceptances must not exceed your maximum Entitlement (as shown on the Entitlement and Acceptance Form), although you may accept for a lesser number of New Shares should you wish to take up only part of your Entitlement. If your acceptance exceeds your Entitlement, acceptance will be deemed to be for your maximum Entitlement and any surplus application monies will be returned to you.

1.5 Underwriting

The Offer is fully underwritten by China Uranium Development Company Limited (CUD). The Company and CUD have entered into an underwriting agreement dated on or about 4 February 2010 (Underwriting Agreement) a summary of which forms Annexure A of this document.

The background to the rationale for the Offer and its underwriting by CUD is set out in Section 1.2.

In December 2009, CUD completed the proportional takeover, the result of which is that CUD currently has a relevant interest of 66% of the Company's issued voting shares.

The table below demonstrates the approximate extent of the increase in the voting power of CUD as a result of underwriting the Offer:

Event/Date	Number of Shares held by CUD	Voting Power of CUD
Date of Offer Document	79,811,291	66%
After issue of Underwritten Shares assuming CUD takes up its full Entitlement and there is otherwise a 100% Shortfall.	93,240,790	69.4%
After issue of Underwritten Shares assuming CUD takes up its full Entitlement and there is otherwise a 75% Shortfall.	92,100,396	68.6%
After issue of Underwritten Shares assuming CUD takes up its full Entitlement and there is otherwise a 50% Shortfall.	90,960,001	67.7%
After issue of Underwritten Shares assuming CUD takes up its full Entitlement and there is otherwise a 25% Shortfall.	89,819,607	66.9%
After issue of Underwritten Shares assuming CUD takes up its full Entitlement and there is no Shortfall.	88,679,212	66.0%

CUD has advised the Company that it intends to take up its full entitlement under the Offer. The figures depicted above demonstrate the potential effect of the underwriting by CUD. In the event that Shareholders take up their Entitlements and Shares are allotted under the Offer, the underwriting obligation of CUD and therefore voting power of CUD will reduce by a corresponding amount.

In October 2009 CUD lodged a bidder's statement with the ASX in connection with the takeover (Bidders Statement). Section 5 of the Bidder's Statement contains details regarding CUD's intentions in relation to the business of EME following the takeover. This information is available from the ASX website www.asx.com.au – the Company's code is EME – and the Company's website www.energymetals.net.

In general, CUD has advised the Company that it intends:

- (a) to continue the business of the Company;
- (b) not to make any major changes to the business of the Company nor to redeploy any of the fixed assets of the Company; and
- (c) to continue the employment of the Company's present employees.

CUD has advised that its intentions in relation to the Company as set out above remain the same following the Entitlement Issue.

CUD has consented in writing to the inclusion of the statement set out above in this Offer Document.

1.6 Shortfall

In addition to being able to apply for New Shares, Shareholders who subscribe for their full Entitlement will also have the opportunity to apply for New Shares that are not subscribed for in the Offer (Shortfall Shares), subject to the requirements set out in Section 2.2.

The offer of the Shortfall is a separate offer pursuant to this Offer Document. The issue price of any Shares offered pursuant to the Shortfall Offer shall be $0.90, being the price at which the Entitlements have been offered to Shareholders pursuant to this Offer Document.

For the avoidance of doubt, the terms of the Offer and the Underwriting Agreement are such that following the Offer, all Shareholders who submit valid applications for Shortfall Shares under the Shortfall Offer will be issued those Shares in priority to CUD, and CUD will only be compelled and authorised to subscribe for those remaining Shortfall Shares following completion of the Offer and the Shortfall Offer.

1.7 Overseas Eligible Shareholders and Prohibited Foreign Holders

This Offer does not, and is not intended to, constitute an offer in any place or jurisdiction in which, or to any person to whom, it would not be lawful to make such an offer or to issue this Offer Document.

It is not practicable for the Company to comply with the securities laws of overseas jurisdictions having regard to the number of overseas Shareholders, the number and value of the Shares these Shareholders would be offered and the cost of complying with regulatory requirements in each relevant jurisdiction. Accordingly, the Offer is not being extended and Shares will not be issued to Shareholders with a registered address which is outside Australia, New Zealand or Hong Kong.

Shareholders resident in New Zealand and Hong Kong should consult their professional advisors as to whether any government or other consents are required, or other formalities need to be observed, to enable them to take up their Entitlements under the Offer.

If a Shareholder has a registered address outside Australia, New Zealand or Hong Kong, that Shareholder (Prohibited Foreign Holder) will not be able to participate in the Entitlement Issue. The Company will instead allot the New Shares that Prohibited Foreign Holder would otherwise be entitled to a nominee appointed by the Company who will sell those securities and pay the net proceeds received (if any), after deducting any applicable brokerage, stamp duty and other taxes and charges, to the Prohibited Foreign Holder. The Company notes that given that the issue price of $0.90 under the Entitlement Issue is more than the market price of the Company's Shares (the last closing price of Shares on ASX prior to the announcement of the Offer on 5 February 2010 was $0.70), it is unlikely that any proceeds will be remitted to the Prohibited Foreign Shareholders.

Given that the issue price of $0.90 under the Entitlement Issue is more than the market price of the Company's Shares, it is possible that the foreign nominee referred to above would be unable to sell the securities of Prohibited Foreign Holders for that issue price. On that basis the Company has sought and obtained relief from ASIC under Section 615 of the Corporations Act to enable the nominee to acquire the securities of the Prohibited Foreign Holders from the Company for the lesser of:

- (a) the issue price under the Entitlement Issue; or
- (b) the proceeds of the sale of the securities of the Prohibited Foreign Holders by the nominee, net of expenses.
